Man Charged with Fatally Stabbing Brother-in-Law in El Monte

A Canadian resident was charged today with allegedly killing his brother-in-law with a knife in the parking lot of an El Monte bowling alley, the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office announced.

Loi Vi Tran (dob 8/4/78) of Calgary faces one count of murder with the special circumstance allegation of lying in wait, making him eligible for the death penalty. The charge also includes an allegation of using a deadly and dangerous weapon, a kitchen knife, according to the criminal complaint in case KA119088.

Tran's arraignment was continued to Oct. 17 in Department F of the Los Angeles County Superior Court, Pomona Branch. Bail was denied.

According to prosecutors, Tran was visiting Southern California from Canada and went bowling with his extended family on Sept. 16. After the group played that morning, the defendant paid for everyone's games and went outside to wait for them.

Tran is accused of then stabbing his brother-in-law Stephen Tran, 45, of El Monte, several times in the chest at about 12:30 p.m. after an exchange of words. Officers with the El Monte Police Department arrived at the scene and arrested the defendant.

The victim was transported to a hospital where he died.

If convicted as charged, Tran faces the death penalty or life in state prison without the possibility of parole. The decision whether to seek capital punishment will be made at a later date.

The case remains under investigation by the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, Homicide Bureau.
